The Benefits to you

Having to wait to see a GP can be frustrating and may result in prolonged illness. So it's reassuring to know that your employees can book a call or real time 'face-to-face' eConsultation with a doctor at a time and place to suit them.

Med24's private prescriptions services means that your employees can get their medication quickly sent to their home or place of work. Getting them on the road to recovery fast*.

Your employees can access My Health which stores their medical notes and can help them to find nearby healthcare services. Great when they are on the move and need medical support away from home.

Not being able to get a GP appointment can cause unnecessary sickness absence, as well as employees coming to work when they are not well – making their health issues worse. Med24 provides your staff with peace of mind, that they can quickly get medical advice when they need it most.
